New Books - Snow Light

I have just published 2 new books.

Snow Light is the book I have always wanted to do but feared it wouldn't have wide enough appeal. Anyway, Jan talked me into it! It has 121 of my top snowscapes from ski mountaineering in the Alps, snowshoeing, Munro's in Scotland, Colorado, Utah and Wyoming and lots more. I have also written an article on winter photography, aerial photography and my 9 year quest to take a particular photograph in Colorado in winter.

Available for £12 (usual price £15) through davebutcher.co.uk. Lots more info and pages to view on the website too.

New Book - Land Light

My other new book is Land Light. Lots of landscapes and coastal shots from around the world. A collection of 119 previously unpublished photographs. I also write and article on how I take my pictures, process the films, print in the darkroom, scan my negatives and edit them in Photoshop. In fact all my secrets in 1 book!

Available for £12 (usual price £15) through davebutcher.co.uk. Lots more info and pages to view on the website too.

SPECIAL OFFER on Snow Light and Land Light

Buy both books together for just £20 (usual price £30). Offer only available from davebutcher.co.uk.

Darkroom Dave Website

I completed the videos to go with my tutorial on Making Your First Black and White Print.

The tutorial on Split Grade Printing the Ilford Way, the way everyone should be printing when using Variable Contrast papers like Ilford Multigrade, is now finished as well and includes a video.

Shows, Courses and Lectures are listed in date order under Events. This is the best place to see where I'm lecturing, if you want to come along. Pretty much all clubs welcome visitors, with a small charge of a pound or so on the door. Full location details and club website are included under Events.

Jan Butcher Website

We have been selling Jan's colour photographs for over a year now in Buxton and at shows. These are also available through a new website, janbutcher.co.uk.

These are exclusively the photos Jan has taken on her Nikon D90 digital camera since switching from film to the dark side in 2009. We haven't had time yet to start looking back to her thousands of 35mm film transparencies which would need to be scanned to be useful!

New Photos

Lots of new images on the web. Mainly landscapes that have been used in the 2 new books but also Geneva, Crans Montana and Kitzbuhel from trips in February and March. There are also a few photos of the 30 metre high Kelpies sculptures, by Andy Scott, near Falkirk in Scotland. Taken on our return from running a private photo course in Northumberland.
